Relative strength is a way of recording historic performance patterns, and the portfolio consultant uses relative strength signals as a trend indicator for current momentum and future performance trends of a security versus another one.

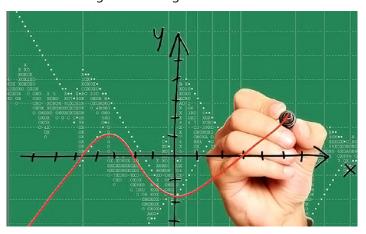

Portfolio selection includes but is not limited to the following:

- Begin With Foreign Stocks Traded on U.S. Exchanges

This historical distribution is for illustrative purposes only and is not indicative of amounts that will actually be distributed by the trust. Standard Accounts

Transactional Sales Charge:	Initial	0.00%
	Deferred	1.35%
Creation & Development Fee ³ :		0.50%
Maximum Sales Charge:		1.85%

The initial sales charge is paid at the time of purchase and is the difference between the total sales charge (maximum of 1.85% of the public offering price) and the sum of the remaining deferred sales charge and the total creation and development fee. When the public offering price per unit is less than or equal to $10, you will not pay an initial sales fee. When the public offering price per unit is greater than $10 per unit, you will pay an initial sales fee.

The deferred sales charge is a charge of $0.135 per unit and will be deducted in three monthly installments commencing on July 20, 2019. The initial and deferred sales fees do not apply to fee-based accounts. Please see the prospectus for sales charge details.

³Percentages are based on a $10.00 per unit offering price. Early redemption will still cause payment of the deferred sales charge. The table above shows the initial offering period sales charges only.

⁴The creation and development fee is a charge of $.050 per unit collected at the end of the initial offering period. If the price you pay exceeds $10 per unit, the creation and development fee will be less than 0.50%; if the price you pay is less than $10 per unit, the creation and development fee will exceed 0.50%. In addition to the sales charges listed, UITs are subject to annual operating expenses and organization costs.

Risk Considerations

Unitholders can lose money by investing in this trust. An investment in units of the trust should be made with an understanding of the risks related to the trust, such as the following:

- Security prices will fluctuate. The value of your investment may fall over time.
- The financial condition of an issuer may worsen or its credit ratings may drop, resulting in a reduction in the value of your units. This may occur at any point in time, including during the initial offering period.
- The issuer of a security may be unwilling or unable to declare dividends in the future or may reduce the level of dividends declared. This may reduce the level of distributions the trust pays which could reduce your income and cause the value of your units to fall.
- A security may not experience the future performance trends expected of it. A security selected based on a relative strength/momentum investing strategy may not perform as it is expected to perform.
- The trust invests in securities of foreign issuers, which may include companies located in emerging and/or frontier markets. These risks may include market and political factors related to the company's foreign market, international trade conditions, less regulation, smaller or less liquid markets, increased volatility, differing accounting practices and changes in the value of foreign currencies.
- The trust is not actively managed. Except in limited circumstances, the trust will hold, and continue to buy, shares of the same securities even if their market value declines.
- The sponsor may offer successive Trusts with similar portfolios thereby allowing the investor to pursue the same strategy over a number of years. Investors should consider their ability to pursue investing in successive Trusts, if available. There may be tax consequences associated with investing in the Trust and rolling over an investment from one Trust to the next.
